

Summary

If you only read the WonderfulQuote.com website, no more information is collected by us than is typically collected in server logs by web sites in general. This consists of your IP address (or the IP address of the VPN or proxy server you are connecting through), and a list of resources (web pages, CSS files, JavaScript files and images) requested from our servers by your web browser.

Cookies and Web Beacons

WonderfulQuote.com may set temporary session cookies whenever you visit the site. If you do not intend to ever log in, you may deny this cookie, but you cannot log in without it.

Other cookies that we set either directly or through third-party software providers include, but are not limited to, cookies to identify your username, country, or A/B test group. Diffen LLC does not use any of these cookies to uncover individuals' identity. Rather they are used for purposes such as running the operations of the website more efficiently via caching, or providing a personalized experience to users.

WonderfulQuote.com uses third-party advertising companies (such as Google) to serve ads when you visit our website. These companies and their affiliates and business partners may set their own cookies and/or may use information (not including your name, address, email address, or telephone number) about your visits to this and other websites in order to provide advertisements about goods and services of interest to you. This information, usually used to serve interest-based advertising, includes users' browser, operating system, IP address, ISP etc. If you would like more information about such practices click here. Please also note that

- Google, as a third-party vendor, uses cookies to serve ads on WonderfulQuote.com.
- Google's use of the DART cookie enables it to serve ads to you based on your visit to WonderfulQuote.com and other sites on the Internet.
- You may opt out of the use of the DART cookie by visiting the Google ad and content network privacy policy.

Other third parties whose resources are requested by web pages on WonderfulQuote.com include Twitter and Facebook. We may add other third-party widgets at any time. All these services set their own cookies, which they can use to track you and build a profile. Each of these companies may also sell the information they compile to third parties in accordance with the GDPR or applicable local regulations.

WonderfulQuote.com's content delivery network (CDN), such as CloudFlare or Fastly, may also set cookies.

The list of third parties identified in this privacy policy is not exhaustive. WonderfulQuote.com reserves the right to work with any third party services, which may or may not use cookies.

You can choose to disable cookies from WonderfulQuote.com or selectively from any of the third parties or advertising vendors (such as Google) by changing your browser settings or using other software tools.

Advertising companies, including those who work with WonderfulQuote.com to show ads to our readers, use cookies to track interests of users across websites. Opting out of this interest-based advertising can be done on the following pages:

Passwords

We do not store raw, plaintext passwords. To the extent that any passwords are stored, they will be hashed via the industry-leading bcrypt algorithm. However, we do encourage users to not re-use their passwords and to choose a different password for every account that they create.

Private logging

Every time you visit a web page, you send a lot of information to the web server. Most web servers routinely maintain access logs with a portion of this information, which can be used to get an overall picture of what pages are popular, what other sites link to this one, and what web browsers people are using.

The raw log data is not made public.

Log data may be examined by developers in the course of solving technical problems and in tracking down badly-behaved web spiders that overwhelm the site.

Sharing information with third parties

WonderfulQuote.com will not sell or share private information, such as email addresses, with third parties, unless you agree to release this information, or it is required by law to release the information, or it is required to send mail via a third-party service such as MailChimp. An exception to this is the use of third-party cookies as explained above.
